Oxford Based

£50,000 plus benefits

Our Client is a global leader in measurement and information. They believe that providing their clients a precise understanding of the consumer is the key to making the right decisions – decisions that can lead to profitable growth. They're always innovating to keep pace with emerging market trends and the increasingly diverse, demanding and connected consumer. After nearly a century, they are more focused and skilled than ever at providing the complete view of what consumers watch and buy through powerful insights that clarify the relationship between content and commerce. Whether their clients are in media, consumer packaged goods, telecom or advertising, their expansive data and measurement capabilities provide market context and confidence through our long history of innovation and integrity.

This is an exciting opportunity to join a successful group within an International Marketing Solutions provider. Working in a client-facing role as part of the Client Solutions Management team, you will be motivated, enthusiastic and delivery orientated responsible for managing the successful delivery of medium to large, client facing projects in a local, multi-local or international environment. You will partner with resources and specialists in different groups and manage stakeholder interests and resource planning for all assigned projects. You will prepare project documentation; update risk/issue/change logs and provide guidance to other Project Managers and Project Executives as required.

This role will require proven project management experience, within Information systems and Business Intelligence and experience of PRINCE2 Project Management processes standards. Solutions and decision-making minded, you will have good organisational and relationship building skills, understand and apply critical project management processes and have strong written and verbal communication and interpersonal skills. The capacity to make decisions independently and resolve problems in a client focused manner escalating when appropriate will be essential. As well as English, knowledge of other European languages will be useful
